Air Mail Speeds Letters On Way To Many Distant Points

Use of Planes Adds To Chances of Letters Arriving Soon

Using the slogan, "air mail saves time," F. J. Eckstein, Salem postmaster, issued announcements through bulletins, showing time taken for mail designated for delivery by air mail to its destination, today.

All principal points in the United States are included in the bulletins, showing plainly when a letter, dropped into the office here at a certain time, will arrive at the designated point.

For this city, closing hours, at which all mail for the air lines should be in, are 9:10 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Postage rates are five cents for the first ounce, and 10 cents for each additional ounce to anywhere in America. All letters must be plainly be indicated for air mail, by writing "air mail" on the outside. Any postage stamps except special delivery may be used.

Several cities, apparently a great distance from the city during regular travel, receive mail sent here in the morning, on the same day as it is dropped off in the office. Shipped out at 9:30, Buffalo mail goes to its destination at 2:50 p. m.; Jersey City at 3:45 p. m.; Moline mail gets there at 9:30 p. m.; letters addressed to Washington arrive there at 11:15 that night, and those to Philadelphia reach their destination at 9:30 the same day.

Mail addressed to Baltimore, Boston, Cheyenne, Concord, Dallas, Denver, Fort Worth, Des Moines, Hartford, Houston, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Oklahoma City, Omaha, Ogden, Providence, St. Louis, St. Paul, San Francisco, Tulsa, Spokane and others get there the following day.

Time savings is made in almost all mail, to cities distant from Salem.

DOUBLE MURDER IN KANSAS CITY

Bodies of Man and Woman Found In Woods; Man Shot in Head; Woman Beaten to Death

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 30.—A double murder near Cliff drive in Kansas City was revealed today when the bodies of a man and a woman were found in the woods adjoining the drive.

The man had been shot in the head. The woman had been beaten to death. The bodies were about a block apart.

The man was identified as Paul O'Dell, 19, employee of the Kansas City Southern railroad. At the morgue where the bodies were taken, it was said the woman's clothing had been partly torn off. Her head and face were so badly beaten, identification will be difficult.

Capt. T. O. Deibler, Ashland, is president of the association.

ACCIDENT CASTS GLOOM OVER '29 NATIONAL RACES

Lady Mary Heath Falls Through Building; Critical

LINDBERGH AGAIN STUNTS IN AIR

Canadian Derby Comes To Close; Speed Test For Women

Cleveland, Aug. 30.—A pall of gloom hung over the National Air Races of 1929 today as a result of the tragic accident that befell Lady Mary Heath, one of the world's best known aviatrixes.

Lady Heath suffered a fractured skull and other critical injuries yesterday when her monoplane, in which she was practicing dead stick landings, crashed at the Great Lakes airport.

This is the first serious accident of an air meet that has been similarly free of such mishaps and it was bound to have a decided effect upon contestants and spectators alike.

In the grandstand at the races today, and in all hotel lobbies where aviation men congregated, Lady Heath's misfortune was the one topic of conversation.

Irwin Kirk, 28, of Wilmington, O., Lady Heath's mechanic, was in the plane at the time of the crash. He was only slightly injured.

Lady Heath was an exhibition flyer for the Great Lakes Aircraft corporation and it was at this company's private field that the accident occurred.

She was bringing her ship down to a landing when in some unexplainable manner she crashed into the roof corner of a factory on the edge of the field. The plane was reduced to a jumbled mass of ruins.

The aviator was rushed immediately to the Emergency Clinic hospital, but later in the day was taken to Lakeside hospital, where an operation was performed on her skull to prevent meningitis.

There was nevertheless a large-sized crowd on hand and the events on the day's program were not only thrilling, but numerous as well.

Two division dashes of the Toronto-to-Cleveland race, called the Canadian derby, came to a close.

The commercial division was won by H. Saint Martin who covered the distance between the two cities in two hours, 10 minutes and 24 seconds. The winners of the second and third place and their times were as follows: second, W. J. E. Johnstone, 2 hours, 13 minutes and 42 seconds; third, James G. Craig, 2 hours, 18 minutes and 48 seconds.

The club division went to Kenneth E. White, whose time was three hours, 2 minutes and 59 seconds, and the third man, C. N. Erwin, in three hours, 14 minutes and 29 seconds.

Special features of the day included an exhibition of stunt flying by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his two "high hats" of the United States Navy.

Glenn Moore, reading near Rogers, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, Aug. 13, near Rogers on the East Liverpool-Youngstown road arranged before Probate Judge Lodge Hiddle Thursday afternoon, and was fined $100 and costs.

The charge against Moore was filed by Sheriff W. J. Barlow after he questioned five young men at his office Thursday.

A man stepped into the North Side Mercantile Company here yesterday and ordered some nails from William Kasey, who was alone in the store at the time.

Kasey started for the rear off the establishment and as he did so, the man grabbed a small amount of cash from the safe. The clerk rushed the man and a customer who happened to come into the store at the time helped Kasey overpower the would-be robber.

When the struggle quieted, two other men entered the store and at the point of guns ordered the release of the foot-ped. This was done.

All police in Northwestern Ohio have been notified and roads are under surveillance.

Selecting Jury For Murder Trial Task

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 30.—The dissemination of propaganda, the formation of pre-conceived judgment from the reading of newspapers and religious and political intolerance are causes turning scores of jurors from the jury box in the massive Gastonia-Aderholt murder trial which this morning entered its fifth day.

These are the main disqualifications of the 125 potential jurors who have been rejected since the prodigious quest for a jury to try Fred Green Deal, fiery strike leader and 15 co-defendants for murder and conspiracy, began three days ago.

When today's session got under way only half of the 12 seats in the jury box were taken. Three jurors were drawn yesterday and the other three yesterday. To all appearances it will take all of today and tomorrow or possibly longer to finish the task.

An even 60 prospective jurors thus far have been excused on challenges for cause by Judge M. V. Barnhill, the youthful presiding jurist, after they professed that the reading of newspapers or their partiality or opposition to radical labor and political cliques would hinder them in rendering fair judgment on the evidence.

A lex were disqualified in this manner upon the declaration that they were antagonistic toward the purported atheistic doctrines of the defendants.

Ohio State Fair Grounds, Columbus, O., Aug. 30.—A new attendance record for this $100,000,000 "show" today had been hung up as a result of 109,023 persons passing through the iron gates here yesterday, and a larger crowd was expected this afternoon and tonight.

In conjunction with other things which are liable to happen when 109,023 persons elbow their way into a small space of 115 acres, Dan Cupid archer and match-maker extraordinary, came to the fore and William Meyers, 21, of Westerville and Miss Ruth Mowry, 18, of Lancaster, were united in wedlock.

The marriage took place in a tent in which a north side church had set up a restaurant with a back ground of kitchen utensils, stacks of bread, the sizzling of fried meat and the smell of hamburger. Rev. John A. Toy officiated.

Governor's day drew many high penances to the Buckeye State's "Mardi Gras." The navy's "nine high hats" nine young flyers, who can make their airplanes do as they will, were among the elite. Former Governor Vic A. Donahay also attended the fair.

As things line up now, it does not look as if the attendance goal of 250,000 will be reached, but the 250,000 mark of last year will be surpassed.

The fair will be brought to a close tomorrow afternoon; the many exhibitors will strike their stakes to move onward; and the greatest spectacle of its kind in the world will have been closed, leaving only the memory of a grand and glorious week.

Schools in the city will hold opening sessions Monday, September 2, an examination for teachers being scheduled at the high school building today.

Grade school pupils entering Salem schools from other cities or entering from another local school here are requested to visit the superintendent at his office between 9 and 12 a. m. next Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Text books are on sale at Campbell's book store where lists can be secured showing the books required by each pupil for the designated grade. Parents are urged by the superintendent to make all purchases in advance.

Pupils may enter the first grade providing they are six years of age, by Jan. 1, 1930. The compulsory education law compels all youths to attend until they are 18, unless they are 16 through the seventh grade and have a working certificate. Working certificates may be obtained at the office of the superintendent.

Harold M. Williams, of Mount Victory has been appointed faculty manager of athletics at Salem High school. W. J. Springer, principal and athletic director, announced today.

Williams succeeds Paul E. Stratton, who resigned at the end of the last school term to re-enter college to study dentistry.

The new manager has been a teacher of social sciences at Salem High for two years, this term being his third. He is a graduate of Ohio Western university.

Williams was interviewed today at the Carlton club, one of the most exclusive men's clubs in London, of which he has long been a member. Although he showed considerable concern over his wife's accident and the apparent gravity of her condition, he betrayed no anxiety to be at her side.

"I have read of the accident to my wife in the newspapers," Sir James said. "But I do not see any useful purpose in my going to America. Her Ladyship has said, 'I intend to settle in the United States permanently, and I understand she has made application for citizenship ship."

"Apparently she has no intention of returning to England or to my home. Similarly, I do not intend to go to America. That is all there is to say about the matter."

Sir James' announcement breaking off relations with Lady Heath was published several days after stories had appeared in the London papers quoting Lady Heath as saying she had "fallen in love with America" and intended to apply for citizenship papers.

The announcement caused considerable stir at the time, for there had been no hint of any estrangement between the millionaire industrialist and his flying wife.

Lady Heath, according to advice called here, treated her husband's action lightly. She was quoted as saying that she had been financially independent for some time due to her many aviation interests, and reiterated her intention of remaining in the United States.

Sir James Heath is Lady Heath's second husband. She was first married to William Elliott-Lynn while she was still a schoolgirl.

Warm Welcomes For Graf Pilot

Washington, Aug. 30.—Still glowing from the warmth of his official welcome in the capital, Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, took off from the naval field at Anacostia at 7:14 o'clock this morning, to fly to New York, where a grand reception awaits him.

Dr. Eckener left Washington in the same transport plane in which he was flown down from New York yesterday afternoon.

While here he called on President Hoover and most of the cabinet officers in town, expressing his thanks for the aid rendered the Graf on the round-the-world flight, and being congratulated in turn for the great feat.

LINE EXTENSION INTO SIGNAL ON Y. & S. PROGRAM

Electric Power Also To Be Available To Community

In order to increase its passenger traffic and thereby aid in building up a new territory, the Youngstown & Southern Railway company is now working on a program to extend its line from Columbiana to Signal in Ekman township. Recently the village council of Columbiana granted the company a new franchise within the corporate limits to cross certain streets with its tracks, and the new road has been surveyed from Columbiana to Signal.

Completion of the line to Signal will also give the Rogers district in Middleton township electric passenger service to Columbiana, North Lima and into Youngstown.

In Middleton township the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western Railroad company has been at work for several months building a spur from its line at Rogers to Achior, where the new plants of the West Darling-ton Clay company are being erected.

One concrete bridge has been built, over Bull creek for this new spur by H. C. Armstrong of Lisbon, and this structure is nearing completion.

Electric power will soon be available at Negley as it is now being made available at Rogers. With the completion of the grading on the Ekman Signal road, and which is to be topped next season, and the opening of the new East Liverpool-East Palestine road through Middleton township within a few weeks, and also the East Liverpool-Youngstown road through the west part of Middleton township, new developments on a rather active scale are being contemplated. The new Rogers-Negley road will also be opened to traffic late in September, although the east portion of this highway is now being used.

DEATH TOLL TO REACH FORTY, IS OFFICIAL BELIEF

Impact Throws Many On Ship Into Sea; Sinks Soon

CAPTAIN REPORTED LOST WITH BOAT

Survivors Badly Hurt, Radio Report Tells; People Saved

BULLETIN
San Francisco, Aug. 30.—(INS)—The death toll in the sinking of the passenger steamer San Juan early today off Pigeon Point may reach sixty or more.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—One of the worst marine disasters in the history of this section of the Pacific coast was believed to have been enacted with the collision of the passenger steamer San Juan and the tanker S. C. T. Dodd off Half Moon bay early today.

It is believed that between 25 and 40 persons lost their lives when the two vessels collided in a soupy fog.

The San Juan was enroute to Los Angeles with passengers and freight.

Some of the survivors picked up by the Dodd and the McCormick steamer Munami were badly injured, radio advices said.

The impact of the two vessels was said to have been terrific, with many persons being thrown into the sea by the force of the collision. Five minutes after the vessels had collided, the San Juan was disappearing from sight and nothing but a few bits of wreckage remained floating on the water.

Boats were quickly launched from the Dodd and the work of fishing out survivors began at once. The Munami arrived at the scene shortly after the wreck and also launched life boats.

It was impossible to get the names of the injured survivors, as officers of both rescue ships were too busy organizing rescue work.

At 3:30 this morning the Munami radioed it was clearing for San Francisco with injured survivors and asked that doctors be in readiness.

The San Juan was commanded by Captain A. F. Asplund. Other officers included: Chief Officer Tulce, Second Officer A. Olson, Chief Engineer James Norton and Purser John Cleveland.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—Radio advices received here by the MacKay Radio and Telegraph company stated that the tanker S. C. T. Dodd had picked up 27 survivors of the ill-fated San Juan, which was sunk when it collided with the tanker.

Many In Sea
The McCormick steamer Munami reported that it had picked up nine persons thrown into the sea when the passenger steamer and the tanker collided in a heavy fog off Pigeon Point, Half Moon bay.

With only 36 accounted for, it was feared that there might be a heavy loss of life, as the San Juan was believed to be carrying 65 passengers and a crew of 45.

Captain Asplund, it is believed, went down with the San Juan, according to radio advices.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—Ralph Hillman, second radio operator aboard the San Juan today, in radio advices, gave a vivid account of the sinking of his ship when it collided with the tanker S. C. T. Dodd.

"I was awakened by the shock of the crash," he said. "I rushed to the deck and the ship was already going down. It was going so fast that I threw myself overboard, as far from the side of the vessel as I could."

"The ship just seemed to crumple up."

The first radio operator before leaving the ship was able to send out a hurried S. O. S. It is not known, however, whether he has been saved.

Former Salem Man Entertains In Air

Herbert C. Lippitt, of Los Angeles, Calif., who flew his airplane to Cleveland from Los Angeles, to attend the air races, on Thursday flew to the air field at Mt. Union to visit Salem relatives.

Lippitt was a former Salem resident.

Mrs. Ada Howells, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lippitt and Paul Lippitt, of Salem, accompanied him back to Cleveland in his six passenger plane.

Lippitt is one of the men, who on Easter morning in 1927, flew from Colorado Springs to Pike's peak, where two men were stranded on account of a big snow storm, and dropped food and papers to them.

REV. L. S. ROSE

Salem has lost a man of sterling character in the death of Rev. Lewellyn S. Rose.

Rev. Rose lacked the educational foundation that has been a stepping stone to fame for many of his profession. His sermons were not the product of research, but came directly from the heart.

His doctrines were of the same sound substantial basis of those of our forefathers, doctrines upon which this nation has been built. In this day of modernism and tendency to stray from the old-fashioned gospel, his kind are all too few.

Failing health proved an added burden. He was well aware of the seriousness of his ailment and expressed a desire to "die in the harness."

The wish of a true servant of his Maker and people was granted.

BETWEEN OCEANS

Courtney Ryley Cooper, so favorably known to magazine readers by reason of his animal stories and tales of circus life, tells about an oil-electric locomotive perfected by the Canadian National railways which has shown a speed far beyond that of any existing steam locomotive and which, on long runs, will compare very favorably to that of the planes now operated in mail and passenger service. The new locomotive, he states, will be put into service on the Canadian National lines within the next six months.

Mr. Cooper's announcement is made following a test made of the new model, No. 9000, witnessed by him, and if the engines of the new model perform as satisfactorily in actual service as in the severe tests given No. 9000, trains will cross the continent from coast to coast in sixty hours, as planned by the railroad officials.

"Transportation men see in it the railroad's answer to the airplane," Cooper says. "If the '9000' lives up to the promise made for it the days of the steam locomotive are numbered, and out of Canada will come the means of electrifying the railroads of the world without use of a single mile of trolley wire or third rail."

The newly-created model, which generates its power by means of a Diesel engine, if it performs up to its tests, will be able to cut the present scheduled time between New York and San Francisco by from twenty-four to thirty-six hours and come within ten or twelve hours of the scheduled time now being made by the recently-inaugurated air-rail service.

With locomotives capable of making high speed on comparatively level stretches and with sufficient power to negotiate the mountain grades at good speed, the problem is not an insurmountable one by any means. The distance between New York City and San Francisco is 3,186 miles. To maintain a sixty-hour service over this distance means an average speed of fifty-three miles an hour. The new locomotive is held capable of maintaining even a higher average speed. Will the roadbeds stand it? The answer to this question may be had in the fact that over twice that speed has been attained on a number of American railroads for short distances. The Burlington has a record of a speed of 108 miles an hour; the Michigan Central, 111.90; the New York Central, 112.5; the Philadelphia &amp; Reading, 115.20 and the Plant system, 120, the last named speed being maintained over a run of five miles. If tracks and roadbeds will stand such speeds as these, there is no real reason why the plan of the Canadian National officials should not be realized if their new engine is all that is claimed for it.

British Flying Officer Atherley, who will fly for the Schneider cup, made such speed in a test this week that the official observers could do no more than estimate it to be between 320 and 350 miles an hour. And our memory goes back to a time when driving at a speed of ten miles an hour was considered fast. This old life of ours has been speeded up a bit with the passing years.

What Others Say

GERMANY'S TEN YEARS

Germany has just celebrated the tenth anniversary of the republic as exemplified by the proclamation of the constitution at Weimar in August, 1919. It is a striking coincidence that the commemoration occurs at a moment when German achievements in a variety of directions are challenging the world's attention to a degree unparalleled at any period during the intervening decade. The Reich enters upon its new decennial of republican existence not only as a full-fledged member of the family of nations, but one which has won its spurs after a disastrous defeat in war with a rapidly and completely altered without compromise in history. Though the world was inclined at first to shudder when Field Marshal von Hindenburg assumed the presidency, fearing that it meant the restitution of the military spirit in Berlin, Germany has magnificently demonstrated the unprofitability of such anxieties. She has dedicated herself unflinchingly to the arts of peace under the aegis of the Weimar constitution and the Hindenburg presidency. Today Germans are making themselves mighty in trade and commerce and in science and invention. The world was devastated them as a military power. However, proof is forthcoming that it actually failed to annihilate their skill and strength in the fields where Marx is not supreme.

Run down merely the list of things which have riveted attention on German accomplishments in recent times. From the German shipwrights springs the Bremen, queen of the seas. The German aeronautical genius motor earth pays unstinted tribute as the great dirigible Graf Zeppelin is resting after her globe girdling cruise.

Shackled by the Versailles treaty as to the extent to which she may reconstruct a navy, German warship builders proceed to design a cruiser within the limits of the Reich rights—said to be the equal in fighting effectiveness of two of the finest types of cruiser now building for either the American or British navy.

Does one crave an example of Germany's "comeback in yet another domain—a domain possibly less impressive than the industrial or scientific, yet one by which means insignificant? It can be found in the fact that a sturdy son of the Fatherland, 22-year-old Max Schmeling, is today acclaimed by no less an authority than our own Granland Rice as the outstanding heavyweight boxer in the world. Behind the war the idea of a German, John L. Sullivan would have made the whole cauliflower industry short with derision. Now a Prussian lad, about to do battle in America, is held the likeliest next wearer of the crown that Dempsey lost and Tunney renounced.

Who dares venture to predict, with a ten-year past and record of this caliber, what the Germany of 1929, or 1939, will be like? It is safe to foreshadow a Reich that will be marching exceedingly close to the head, if not actually at the front of the international procession. If their maiden decade of republicanism is an augury of the years to follow, the German's progress toward world leadership can arouse in the rest of mankind nothing but emotions of admiration. It would be well if those feelings are tinged with a healthy realization that unless the rest of us are up to our toes, we may awake to find ourselves hopelessly outdistanced by the country. Palmerston once called "that damned land of professors."—Washington Star.

I have your family doctor recommend an experienced and capable oculist. He will examine the eye and find the cause of the failing sight. Nine times out of ten there will be no cataract or other serious trouble. But if it turns out that cataract is really present, the oculist will arrange for the operative work necessary to get rid of it.

Don't worry about it. It is only a question of a little time when the cataract is out and the sight restored.

No Need of Strong Medicines. Diet, Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition.

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system with starvation diets. For what reason most folks may eat what they like if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bismarated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach ash alert and clean.

A week's trial of Bismarated Magnesia tablets, which any good drug-gist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that 90 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bismarated Magnesia tablets! Adv.

$25 for a few ashes for the next 15 days only

The old, poorly insulated, heat-leaking refrigerator is little more than worthless. Condemned again and again by health surveys, by U. S. Government department bulletins, the average household refrigerator is a menace to health.

That is the "why" of our giant bonfire of old refrigerators. For the next 15 days we will allow you $25 on your old refrigerator toward the most talked-of, most efficient electric refrigerator sold today—and add your old box to the funeral pyre that will be burned when the offer closes.

Think this amazing offer over carefully. It is unique in electric refrigeration. Then act!—if you value your health and a bargain. For the Holmes has an astounding record—not only of efficient performance—but of popular success. It has, in six months, won a high place in public preference.

Don't take anything for granted, but examine the Holmes for yourself. See it—test it. But act! Act! On display as indicated below.

MARKET OPENING

New York, Aug. 30.—Opening stock prices were generally higher today, though there was some irregularity. Traders seemed to have discounted possibly bearish factors such as the $122,000,000 increase in mortgage loans to a new high peak and the approach of a three-day market holiday.

Stock buying in pivotal industries caused prices to move upward. United States Steel opened at 40 1/2, up 1/2; Westinghouse Electric at 24 1/2, up 2 points at 23 1/2; American International at 17 1/2, up 1/2; Montgomery Ward was up 1/2 to 10 1/2; and Sears Roebuck up 1/2 to 17 1/2.

Bonds which opened lower included General Electric off 1/2 at 39 1/2; American Tel. and Tel. down 1/2 at 40 1/2; American International off 1/2 at 17 1/2; and a block of 10,000 of General Motors at 71 1/2, 1/2 point.

FORMER SALEM MAYOR LAUDS OWA-TON-NA

"That Indian Remedy Gives You a Great Appetite
And When You Eat, Food Doesn't Distress"

Everyone in Salem knows Mr. John Post, former mayor and widely known auctioneer. Most everyone knows that recently he has not been as fit as he had been. He says: "Ever since I had that nervous breakdown I haven't been able to get back my old pep. My health just seems to be gradually run down."
 "Many of the things that I like to eat I have had to give up because they caused me so much trouble. I haven't been sleeping the way I should and many a night when I go to bed I would roll and toss for quite a while before I would be able to go to sleep. When I would fall asleep, it didn't seem to be long because my nerves were in such bad shape. I was tired and felt roughly and irritable most of the time."
 "When Owa-Ton-Na was recommended to me, I did not know whether to take it or not. I have heard a great deal about Indian medicine and the good results people who use them have had, so I have decided to give it a trial and I wasn't disappointed. My appetite has improved wonderfully and I can now eat anything I want to and it doesn't seem to bother me. I can go to bed and sleep fine and I am getting back my old time pep and strength. I certainly consider this fine old Indian Remedy a good pure building tonic and I am justified in recommending Owa-Ton-Na to any one who is in a nervous run-down condition."
 Owa-Ton-Na is a non-alcoholic herbal preparation for kidney, liver, stomach and intestinal disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general run-down condition of health. Sold in Salem at Fioding's, Boiser & French and J. H. Lease drug stores.—Adv.

RED-SUCKLING PIGS LIBERALLY IN CREEP

Feeding of suckling pigs is a very important part of the farm economy. It is also important to the success of the pig raiser. According to a report from the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, the best time to begin feeding the piglets is when they are about ten days old. At this time they are usually about one pound in weight. It is advisable to feed them a mixture of milk and corn. The milk should be fresh and the corn should be well soaked in water. The mixture should be fed to the piglets three or four times a day. This will help them to grow and keep them healthy.

Practically the same results were secured in a similar test, with 400 chicks to each group. The point is, as stated by D. C. Kennard, a good range may be all right, but a poor contaminated range may lead to disaster.

A more severe type of confinement is now being tested. The floors of brooder houses, laying houses and sun parlors are of wire screen so the birds never touch floor nor soil. One group of chicks escaped this way in brooder house escaped serious outbreak of coccidiosis while the adjoining groups of chicks of same age, and on same feed confined indoors on the straw covered floor in a new brooder were attacked.

Other tests in progress at the station prove that chickens of all ages can be confined successfully, provided proper feeding and management is practiced. Screening the floors of brooder and laying houses offers promising possibilities for solving the problem.

CHICKENS THRIVE ON WIRE SCREEN FLOOR

It is incredible that chickens of all ages can be kept in close confinement or "prisoned," and yet thrive and produce as well as when they are given a good free range. This has been proved by a series of tests at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. The tests have shown that chickens confined on wire screen floors are just as healthy and productive as those on a free range. This is a great discovery for farmers who want to keep their chickens in a small space.

One test with two groups of chickens, each one group was confined in a 10x12 foot brooder house equipped with a wire screen floor. The other group had the same ration and management, except that the chicks had a good free range straw litter was used in both brooder houses. Both groups yielded first class pullets, with a high rate of mortality. The mortality of the confined pullets was a little less, and they weighed a little more when 12 weeks of age and were the first to lay.

CUTTING SOYBEANS FOR SILAGE OR HAY

Soybeans make good silage if they are not too full of sap when cut into the silo. They make good hay if cut a little earlier, when full of pods with the seeds just beginning to form, according to L. E. Thatcher, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, associate agronomist at the station.

If soybeans alone are put into the silo, they should be allowed to get as ripe as possible without appreciable loss of leaves. At this stage some of the lower leaves will be turning yellow and the pods will be filled with immature seeds. If necessary to harvest before this stage, Thatcher says the plants should be allowed to lie in the field a day or two until thoroughly wilted so as to reduce the percentage of moisture. Too much moisture in the plants produces a strong, ill-smelling silage.

Sometimes it is a question with the farmer whether to put the soybeans into the silo or make them into hay. A test with dairy cows conducted by Hayden and Perkins at the Ohio station showed equally good results from feeding corn-soybean hay. The corn-soybean silage mixture was made in the ratio of 1 part soybeans to 21 parts corn. An equal amount of soybeans in the form of hay was fed with corn silage in the test.

In filling the silo it is best to feed the corn and soybeans into the silo together so as to obtain a good mixture. The ratio of 1 part soybeans to 2 parts of corn by weight is satisfactory. Soybeans make good hay when the seeds are just beginning to form.

Earlier cutting will give a hay some what higher in feeding value, but much less tonnage per acre. If cut later than this the yield is increased but the feeding value is less. The palatability of soybean hay decreases as the plants approach maturity.

Later cut soybeans are also more difficult to cure, as the green beans are very slow to dry. They need to be cured thoroughly in the swath or windrow before going into the silo.

PRODUCE SUPER CORN FROM INBRED STRAINS

By inbreeding and selecting ears for several generations and then crossing the resulting pure inbred strains, super corn has been produced.

"Although inbreeding is usually thought of as a practice to be avoided, yet through this very process," says G. H. Stringfield, assistant in the department of agronomy at the Ohio experiment station, "a method has been discovered of producing unusually healthy, vigorous, productive corn plants."

The corn is closely inbred by dusting the silks with pollen from the same plant and excluding pollen from other plants. During the several generations of this treatment, many defectives appear and are eliminated.

"The strains that do survive this purifying process are much reduced in vigor. But vigor and attendant productivity may be regained immediately by crossing two of these strains that are unrelated. In fact, many such crosses have been producing yields much greater than can be obtained from the best commercial varieties."

It has been demonstrated that higher yields can be obtained by this process than by any other known method of corn breeding.

Mr. Stringfield's corn breeding work will be one of the interesting features of Corn and Soybean day at the experiment station, Sept. 11. The work includes 235 inbred strains of corn growing side by side. Some of these strains are less than three feet high. In contrast to these are more than a hundred uniform, vigorous, productive hybrids from those inbred strains, as well as the best commercial varieties.

Skeleton of Freak Animal In Museum

Boston, Aug. 30. Harvard University was expected to be the recipient of a large skeleton of some deep sea animal which was hauled in by fishermen around the schooner Cornish, 230 miles southeast from Hingham, Light, Cape Cod. The skeleton, about seven feet in width and ten feet long, was said by some to be that of a whale while others along the waterfront contended that it was some prehistoric monster that had rested on the ocean floor for years.

Abandonment Of County High School Competitions Loom Near

Few Games Scheduled Between Schools In Circuit This Season

For several seasons has appeared inevitable in Columbiana county athletic competition appears about to reach its point this year. Where formerly each school in the circuit has been scheduled for more than a dozen games, now only a few are scheduled for the coming school term; county games, which for more than a decade have attracted widespread interest, are doomed.

The situation apparently reaches its climax this season, through the action of Salem High and Liverpool teams to clash on either the basketball or football court. For years these struggles have been the main event in the sport schedules of both schools, and now, with their mutual abandonment, interest in inter-county titular races is at its lowest ebb.

The fall season Salem plays but four county teams; East Liverpool, one, while in all probability the smaller schools, Lisbon, Palestine, Wellsville and Leetonia will meet each other on basketball and football. No county race can be decided without a clash between Salem and Liverpool, and for that reason, unless changes are made in the schedules of both teams this year, the circuit will practically be abandoned.

There is a feeling of animosity between Red and Black and the County Center school, despite its recent success in basketball. The feeling was understood, at least, in the basketball season, when a change was effected in the coaching staff, that at least a basketball game would be arranged for the season, but none has been scheduled. Salem has completed its schedule for the season, and the basketball season is hardly probable. It is highly possible that a few games will be played in basketball.

County Meet Doomed

A track race is concerned, there is a feeling throughout the county that the county meet should be abandoned unless a new scoring system is adopted. Coach Ward, of the Palestine school, attempted to introduce a new per-player plan last year, but the abolition of the meet unless smaller schools are given an equal chance with the larger schools, and Wellsville, but it was abandoned, and no other plan was adopted. Salem's easy victory in the meet for four years, and Liverpool's failure to win, seemed to be the final step down the ladder towards oblivion for the event.

Out of 21 games so far on its schedule, Red and Black have won only three county teams and four games. Wellsville is to be paired with Lisbon and East Palestine each once, while Liverpool is scheduled to have scheduled no games with the other county teams, with the exception of Leetonia, which has no basketball team, will meet each other on the court. In these situations arising, it is apparent that some steps must be taken by the county body to preserve interest in county competition, or else one of the chief reasons for its falling down may be met. Salem's monopoly on the great doesn't continue for ever. Several years ago Liverpool, under Don DeBolt and others, did not run away with the basketball title, but the games continued to Salem's victories should have no effect. Perhaps one of the smaller schools will topple the Red and Black on the gridiron this season, and then the situation will be somewhat different than ever, unless it is Wellsville, who plays Liverpool.

Even if Liverpool, being larger, do have an advantage over smaller teams, even their elimination from the county league would not mean that the others should abandon their battles with each other. The formation of a five-

New Code Simplifies Criminal Procedure

As the result of the new criminal code adopted by the last session of the legislature, simplified indictment forms have been received by Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baughn. These new forms, covering many kinds of cases, have been stripped of technical verbiage, and merely state that a certain character of crime was committed on a certain date.

Old indictment forms were double sheets, while the new forms are only one sheet. None of the details of a crime are related in the new form, and only the character of the offense is set up. The new forms, it is also said, reduce the possibility of motions and demurrers before the cases go to the court.

Bottle Exchange Sorts Out Homeless Milk Containers

Chicago, Aug. 29.—On a hot day, put it out on the back porch, and the milkman will take it away.

What becomes of the milk bottles you purchased at the grocery store? It goes to the Milk Dealers' Bottle Exchange.

More than 60,000,000 milk bottles a year find their way into the exchange, which is owned and operated by all the milk companies in Chicago. There are similar exchanges in other large cities. If Mrs. Housewife has a regular, constant daily with the milkman, she will find a bottle of the exchange company's milk from a grocery she places the Brown company's bottle on her door step. The Smith company driver picks it up with his own "empties" and after his day's work is concluded, drops all the "stray" bottles into a vast bin.

Every evening exchange trucks pick up these stray bottles and bring them in. At the exchange they are sorted out by companies and the following day are delivered back to their original owners. The driver then picks up a new batch of stray bottles and the process goes on endlessly every day of the year.

The bottles are then washed thoroughly by the companies, dried and are refilled and capped. The next day they start out on their journey but always find their way back again. Why the exchange company? The milk bottles cost five cents each, according to E. Reuter, manager of the exchange.

"THE THUNDERBOLT"
 From pages of the daily newspapers, the daily newspapers provide endless stories for motion pictures according to Charles Furlimann, Hollywood author and adapter of many screen plays. His latest story, "The Thunderbolt," starring George Bancroft which is at the State, works a series of these front page events into a dramatic story of the unknown world of New York's Harlem.
 A stronger drama has ever been presented, no greater emotional climax ever screened than Von Sternberg and Bancroft have brought forth in "Thunderbolt." Opening in the morning atmosphere of Harlem, these metropolis, where Bancroft as a fearful death dealer sways the lives and destinies of hundreds of human beings, it swings to the awe-inspiring setting of Sing Sing's Death Row, where the final scenes climax in this most exciting drama are enacted.
 The story captures and vivifies the dramatic incidents that cross the news horizon in the newspapers every day. It goes behind these fitting episodes and brings the whole tale forward. Superbly acted by a splendid cast, headed by Bancroft, Richard Arlen and Fay Wray, it is a slice of contemporary life made to live.

"IT CAN BE DONE"
 "It Can Be Done," the latest Universal comedy starring Glenn Tryon, opens at the Royal Theatre tonight.
 Glenn Tryon, that popular young comedian who has achieved such phenomenal success in the last two years, portrays the part of a young man who is possessed of a devastating inferiority complex, and consequently undergoes the trials and tribulations that are the lot of all persons afflicted with an excess of timidity.

 Tryon takes the part of a young clerk in a publishing firm. He has just been discharged and is leaving the office when he meets the girl of his heart, who thinks that he is the boss of the company and forces her manuscript upon him. He reads her story and decides to put into active use some of the theories that it contains.

WHO'S WHO IN SALEM

Miss Hallie Roessler and Miss
 Addie Bonsall, two outstanding
 Salem business ladies. Miss Roessler manages and owns The Salem Builders Supply Co. Many people, no doubt, think that the building supply business is a strange business for a lady to manage. Miss Roessler has had many years experience in this line, and with the capable assistance of Miss Addie Bonsall, her assistant, she has been very successful. When there is a question about any kind of building material, an honest and conscientious decision can be obtained from either of these well-informed ladies.

Both Miss Roessler and Miss
 Bonsall are great Salem boosters.
 They believe in patronizing home industry and merchants whenever possible. This belief in itself makes valuable citizens. Salem can well be proud of these two business ladies. We also can be proud of the distinction of having a business of this kind owned and operated by ladies.

Air Mail Speeds Letters On Way To Many Distant Points

Use of Planes Adds To Chances of Letters Arriving Soon

Using the slogan, "air mail saves time," F. J. Eckstein, Salem postmaster, issued announcements through bulletins, showing time taken for mail designated for delivery by air mail to its destination, today.

All principal points in the United States are included in the bulletins, showing plainly when a letter, dropped into the office here at a certain time, will arrive at the designated point.

For this city, closing hours, at which all mail for the air lines should be in, are 9:10 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Postage rates are five cents for the first ounce, and 10 cents for each additional ounce to anywhere in America. All letters must very plainly be indicated for air mail, by writing "air mail" on the outside. Any postage stamps except special delivery may be used.

Several cities, apparently a great distance from the city during regular travel, receive mail sent here in the morning, on the same day as it is dropped off in the office. Shipped out at 9:30, Buffalo mail gets to its destination at 2:50 p. m.; Jersey City is arrived at by 7:45 p. m.; Moline mail gets there at 9:30 p. m.; letters addressed to Washington arrive there at 11:15 that night, and those to Philadelphia reach their destination at 9:55 the same day.

Mail addressed to Baltimore, Boston, Cheyenne, Concord, Dallas, Davenport, Fort Worth, Des Moines, Hartford, Houston, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Oklahoma City, Omaha, Oregon, Providence, St. Louis, St. Paul, San Francisco, Tulsa, Spokane, and others get there the following day.

Time savings is made in almost all mail, to cities distant from Salem.

BANDITS SAVE CAPTURED PAL

Police In Ohio Search For Trio In Big Roadster

Findlay O. Aug. 30.—A police dragnet was spread over Northwestern Ohio today for three robbers, driving a large roadster, who yesterday freed one of their number after he had been overpowered in a store which he attempted to rob.

A man stepped into the North Side Mercantile Company here yesterday and ordered some nails from William Kasey, who was alone in the store at the time.

Kasey started for the rear of the establishment and as he did so, the man grabbed a small amount of cash from the safe. The clerk rushed the man and a customer who happened to come into the store at the time helped Kasey overpower the would-be robber.

When the struggle quieted, two other men entered the store and at the point of guns ordered the release of the loot-pal. This was done.

All police in Northwestern Ohio have been notified and roads are under surveillance.

The man had been shot in the head. The woman had been beaten to death. The bodies were found about a block apart.

The man was identified as Paul O'Dell, 19, employee of the Kansas City Southern railroad. At the morgue where the bodies were taken, it was said the woman's clothing had been partly torn off. Her head and face were so badly beaten, identification will be difficult.

ACCIDENT CASTS GLOOM OVER '29 NATIONAL RACES

Lady Mary Heath Falls Through Building; Critical

LINDBERGH AGAIN STUNTS IN AIR

Canadian Derby Comes To Close; Speed Test For Women

Cleveland, Aug. 30.—A pall of gloom hung over the National Air Races of 1929 today as a result of the tragic accident that befell Lady Mary Heath, one of the world's best known aviatrices.

Lady Heath suffered a fractured skull and other critical injuries yesterday when her monoplane, in which she was practicing dead stick landings, crashed at the Great Lakes airport.

This is the first serious accident of an air meet that has been singularly free of such mishaps and it was bound to have a decided effect upon contestants and spectators alike.

In the grandstand at the races today, and in all hotel lobbies where aviation men congregate, Lady Heath's misfortune was the one topic of conversation.

Irwin Kirk, 26, of Wilmington, O., Lady Heath's mechanic, was in the plane at the time of the crash. He was only slightly injured.

Lady Heath was an exhibition flyer for the Great Lakes Aircraft corporation and it was at this company's private field that the accident occurred.

She was bringing her ship down to a landing when in some unexplainable manner she crashed into the roof corner of a factory on the edge of the field. The plane was reduced to a jumbled mass of ruins.

The aviatrix was rushed immediately to the Emergency Clinic hospital, but later in the day was taken to Lakeside hospital, where an operation was performed on her skull to prevent meningitis.

There was nevertheless a large sized crowd on hand and the events on the day's program were not only thrilling, but numerous as well.

Two division dashes of the Toronto-to-Cleveland race, called the Canadian derby, came to a close.

The commercial division was won by H. Saint Martin, who covered the distance between the two cities in two hours, 10 minutes and 24 seconds. The winners of the second and third place and their times were as follows: second, W. J. E. Johnson, 2 hours, 13 minutes and 14 seconds; third, James G. Craig, 2 hours, 18 minutes and 48 seconds.

The club division went to Kenneth E. White, whose time was three hours, 2 minutes and 59 seconds, and the third man, C. N. Erwin, in three hours, 14 minutes and 25 seconds.

Special features of the day included an exhibition of stunt flying by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his two "high hats" of the United States Navy.

Springer to Arrange For Year's Courses; Grade Pupils Meet

Pupils entering Salem high school for the first time this term are asked to meet with Principal W. J. Springer, in the latter's office, for formation of the year's schedules, between the hours of 9 and 12 a. m., September 3, 4 and 5, an announcement by J. S. Alan, superintendent of schools stated today.

Schools in the city will hold opening sessions Monday, September 9, an examination for teachers being scheduled at the high school building today.

Grade school pupils, entering Salem schools from other cities or entering from another local school here, are requested to visit the superintendent at his office, between 9 and 12 a. m. next Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Text books are on sale at Campbell's book store, where lists can be secured showing the books required by each pupil for the designated grade. Parents are urged by the superintendent to make all purchases in advance.

Pupils may enter the first grade providing they are six years of age by Jan. 1, 1930. The compulsory education law compels all youths to attend until they are 18 unless they are 16 through the seventh grade, and have a working certificate. Working certificates may be obtained at the office of the superintendent.

Williams Named To School Post

Harold M. Williams, of Mount Victory has been appointed faculty manager of athletics at Salem High school, W. J. Springer, principal and athletic director, announced today.

Williams succeeds Paul E. Stratton, who resigned at the end of the last school term to re-enter college to study dentistry.

The new manager has been a teacher of social sciences at Salem High for two years, this term being his third. He is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university.

Fine Follows Charge Of Drunken Driving

Glenn Moore, residing near Rogers, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, Aug. 12, near Rogers on the East Liverpool Youngstown road entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Probate Judge Lodge Riddle Thursday afternoon, and was fined $100 and costs.

The charge against Moore was filed by Sheriff W. J. Barlow after he questioned five young men at his office Thursday.

Tragic Airplane Crash Brings Shattered Romance To Front; Husband Stays Home

London, Aug. 30.—The tragic accident which has befallen Lady Mary Heath, Britain's premiere woman flier, in Cleveland, Ohio, will have no effect in bringing about a reconciliation between herself and her multi-millionaire husband, Sir James Heath, prominent British industrialist.

Sir James assured International News Service today that he had no intention of rushing to America to be at his wife's bedside. He indicated strongly that even the fact she is reported to be at the point of death will not influence him to take steps toward a reconciliation.

Sir James and Lady Heath were estranged about a year ago. The industrialist objected to his wife's long absences from home while engaged in her numerous aerial activities, and furnished London society with a sensation by inserting paid advertisements in the newspapers stating he would no longer be responsible for any debts contracted by Lady Heath.

Sir James was interviewed today at the Carlton club, one of the most exclusive men's clubs in London, of which he has long been a member. Although he showed considerable concern over his wife's accident and the apparent gravity of her condition, he betrayed no anxiety to be at her side.

"I have read of the accident to my wife in the newspapers," Sir James said. "But I do not see any useful purpose in my going to America. Her husband has said that she intends to settle in the United States permanently, and I understand she has made application for citizenship."

"Apparently she has no intention of returning to England or to my home. Similarly I do not intend to go to America. That is all there is to say about the matter."

Sir James' announcement breaking off relations with Lady Heath was published several days after stories had appeared in the London papers quoting Lady Heath as saying she had "fallen in love with America" and intended to apply for citizenship papers.

The announcement caused considerable stir at the time, for there had been no hint of any estrangement between the millionaire industrialist and his flying wife.

Lady Heath, according to advice cable here, treated her husband's action lightly. She was quoted as saying that she had been financially independent for some time due to her many aviation interests, and reiterated her intention of remaining in the United States.

Sir James Heath is Lady Heath's second husband. She was first married to William Elliott-Lynn while she was still a schoolgirl.

Selecting Jury For Murder Trial Task

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 30.—The dissemination of propaganda, the formation of preconceived judgment from the reading of newspapers and religious and political intolerance are causes turning scores of venturers from the jury box in the massive Gastonia-Adelbert murder trial which this morning entered its fifth day.

These are the main disqualifications of the 125 potential jurors who have been rejected since the prodigious quest for a jury to try Fred Edwin Adel, fiery strike leader and 15 co-defendants for murder and conspiracy began three days ago.

When today's session got under way only half of the 12 seats in the jury box were taken. Three jurors were drawn yesterday. To all appearances it will take all of today and tomorrow or possibly longer to finish the task.

An even 60 prospective jurors that have been excused on challenge for cause by Judge M. V. Barnhill, the youthful presiding jurist, after they professed that the reading of newspapers or their partiality or opposition to radical labor and political cliques would hinder them in rendering fair judgment on the evidence.

A few were disqualified in this manner upon the declaration that they were antagonistic toward the purported atheistic doctrines of the defendants.

OVER HUNDRED THOUSAND SEE FAIR THURSDAY

Records Fall As 103,023 Pass Through Gates At Columbus

Ohio State Fair Grounds, Columbus, O., Aug. 30.—A new attendance record for this $100,000,000 "show" today had been hung up as a result of 109,023 persons passing through the iron gates here yesterday, and a bigger crowd was expected this afternoon and tonight.

In conjunction with other things which are liable to happen when 109,023 persons elbow their way into a small space of 115 acres, Dan Cupid, archer and match-maker extraordinary, came to the fore and William Meyers, 21, of Westerville and Miss Ruth Mowry, 18, of Lancaster, were united in wedlock.

The marriage took place in a tent in which a north side church had set up a restaurant with a background of kitchen utensils, stacks of bread, the sizzling of fried meat and the smell of hamburger. Rev. John A. Toy officiated.

Governor's day drew many high personages to the Buckeye State's "Mardi Gras." The navy's "nine high hats" nine young flyers who can make their airplanes do as they will, were among the elite. Former Governor Mc. A. Donahay also attended the fair.

As things line up now, it does not look as if the attendance goal of 500,000 will be reached, but the 350,000 mark of last year will be surpassed.

The fair will be brought to a close tomorrow afternoon; the many exhibitors will strike their stakes to move onward; and the greatest spectacle of its kind, the world will have been closed, leaving only the memory of a grand and glorious week.

FRESHMEN WILL GATHER AT HIGH SCHOOL TUESDAY

Pupils entering Salem high school for the first time this term are asked to meet with Principal W. J. Springer, in the latter's office, for formation of the year's schedules, between the hours of 9 and 12 a. m., September 3, 4 and 5, an announcement by J. S. Alan, superintendent of schools stated today.

Schools in the city will hold opening sessions Monday, September 9, an examination for teachers being scheduled at the high school building today.

Grade school pupils, entering Salem schools from other cities or entering from another local school here, are requested to visit the superintendent at his office, between 9 and 12 a. m. next Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

THREE KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Fire Follows Wreck On Ohio Highway; More Are Injured

Wapakoneta, O., Aug. 30.—Fire, which followed an automobile crash here yesterday, today had snuffed out the lives of three persons and had caused minor hurts to at least three other persons.

The dead are: Samuel Gwynn, 60, of Mentor, Kentucky; Mrs. Samuel Gwynn, 61, his wife and Mrs. Raymond Gwynn, 35, a daughter-in-law.

Those receiving minor injuries are: Raymond Gwynn, and his daughter, Geraldine, 12, and John Blanford, Dayton, the driver of the second car.

The automobile in which the Gwynns were riding collided with Blanford's car at Wapakoneta, near here. The three dead persons were pinned beneath their car after it overturned. Raymond and his daughter were thrown clear of the wreckage.

Authorities, assisted by the county coroner, are conducting an investigation today.

Improvements estimated at $15,000 were completed at the Metzger hotel today, according to an announcement by Chris Paparadis.

The entire hotel has been remodelled, according to Paparadis' announcement, and the new $4,000 elevator system was put into operation for the first time Thursday.

Work on the building has been in progress for six weeks.

CLEVELAND MAN SPEAKS AT CLUB

Former Salem Resident Gives Talk; Honor Rev. L. S. Rose

"Where do you want to be 20 years from now?" was the question asked Salem Kiwanians, when Walter A. Coy, Cleveland public accountant, formerly from this city, spoke at the club's weekly luncheon, at the Memorial building Thursday noon.

"Fix that certain destination in your mind," Coy stated, "and work to that single end. Budget your life in such a manner that only the best things are included in that budget, and always know what you are doing and why you are doing it."

"Budgeting Your Life" was the topic of the former Salem man's speech. He is a former member of the Kiwanis club here, and a resident of the city for years, previous to entering business in Cleveland.

The meeting was in charge of J. R. Stratton, chairman of the attendance committee.

The entire club stood for one minute, previous to the luncheon, in memorial to Rev. L. S. Rose, pastor of First Methodist church, a Kiwanian who died suddenly Wednesday night.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held at the Farmers National bank Tuesday night, C. W. Kaminsky, president announced.

Warm Welcomes For Graf Pilot

Washington, Aug. 30.—Still glowing from the warmth of his official welcome in the capital, Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, took off from the naval flying field at Anacostia at 7:14 o'clock this morning to fly to New York, where a grand reception awaits him.

Dr. Eckener left Washington in the same transport plane in which he was flown down from New York yesterday afternoon.

While here he called on President Hoover and most of the cabinet officers, in town, expressing his thanks for the aid rendered the Graf on the round-the-world flight, and being congratulated in turn for the great feat.

LINE EXTENSION INTO SIGNAL ON Y. & S. PROGRAM

Electric Power Also To Be Available To Community

In order to increase its passenger traffic, and thereby aid in building up a new territory, the Youngstown & Southern Railway company is working on a program to extend its line from Columbiana to Signal in Elkrun township. Recently the village council of Columbiana granted the company a new franchise within the corporate limits to cross certain streets with its tracks, and the new road has been surveyed from Columbiana to Signal.

Completion of the line to Signal will also give the Rogers district in Middletown township electric passenger service to Columbiana, North Lima and into Youngstown.

In Middletown township the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western Railroad company has been at work for several months building a spur from its line at Rogers to Achot, where the new plants of the West Darlington Clay company are being erected. One concrete bridge has been built, over Hill creek for this new spur by H. C. Armstrong of Lisbon, and this structure is nearing completion.

Electric power will soon be available at Negley as it is now being made available at Rogers. With the completion of the grading on the Elkon Signal road, and which is to be topped next season, and the opening of the new East Liverpool-East Palestine road through Middletown township within a few weeks, and also the East Liverpool-Youngstown road through the west part of Middletown township, new developments on a rather active scale are being contemplated. The new Rogers-Negley road will also be opened to traffic late in September, although the east portion of this highway is now being used.

DEATH TOLL TO REACH FORTY, IS OFFICIAL BELIEF

Impact Throws Many On Ship Into Sea; Sinks Soon

CAPTAIN REPORTED LOST WITH BOAT

Survivors Badly Hurt, Radio Report Tells; People Saved

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—(INS)—The death toll in the sinking of the passenger steamer San Juan early today off Pigeon Point may reach sixty or more.

San Francisco, Aug. 30.—One of the worst marine disasters in the history of this section of the Pacific coast was believed to have been enacted with the collision of the passenger steamer San Juan and the tanker S. C. T. Dodd off Half Moon bay early today.

It is believed that between 25 and 40 persons lost their lives when the two vessels collided in a soupy fog.

The San Juan was enroute to Los Angeles with passengers and freight.

Some of the survivors picked up by the Dodd and the McCormick steamer Munami were badly injured, radio advices said.

The impact of the two vessels was said to have been terrific, with many persons being thrown into the sea by the force of the collision.

Five minutes after the vessels had collided, the San Juan was disappearing from sight and nothing but a few bits of wreckage remained floating on the water.

Boats were quickly launched from the Dodd and the work of fishing out survivors began at once. The Munami arrived at the scene shortly after the wreck and also launched life boats.

It was impossible to get the names of the injured survivors, as officers of both rescue ships were too busy waiting rescue work.

At 3:30 this morning the Munami radioed it was clearing for San Francisco, with injured survivors and asked that doctors be in readiness.

The San Juan was commanded by Captain A. F. Asplund. Other officers included: Chief Officer Tulee, Second Officer A. Olson, Chief Engineer James Norton and Purser John Cleveland.

Former Salem Resident Gives Talk; Honor Rev. L. S. Rose

"Where do you want to be 20 years from now?" was the question asked Salem Kiwanians, when Walter A. Coy, Cleveland public accountant, formerly from this city, spoke at the club's weekly luncheon, at the Memorial building Thursday noon.

"Fix that certain destination in your mind," Coy stated, "and work to that single end. Budget your life in such a manner that only the best things are included in that budget, and always know what you are doing and why you are doing it."

"Budgeting Your Life" was the topic of the former Salem man's speech. He is a former member of the Kiwanis club here, and a resident of the city for years, previous to entering business in Cleveland.

The meeting was in charge of J. R. Stratton, chairman of the attendance committee.

The entire club stood for one minute, previous to the luncheon, in memorial to Rev. L. S. Rose, pastor of First Methodist church, a Kiwanian who died suddenly Wednesday night.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held at the Farmers National bank Tuesday night, C. W. Kaminsky, president announced.

Former Salem Man Entertains In Air

Herbert C. Lippitt, of Los Angeles, Calif., who flew his airplane to Cleveland from Los Angeles, to attend the air races on Thursday flew to the air field at Mt. Union to visit Salem relatives.

Lippitt was a former Salem resident.

Mrs. Ada Howells, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lippitt and Paul Lippitt, of Salem accompanied him back to Cleveland in his six passenger plane.

Lippitt is one of the men, who on Easter morning in 1927, flew from Colorado Springs to Pike's peak, where two men were stranded on account of a big snow storm, and dropped food and papers to them.

REV. L. S. ROSE

Salem has lost a man of sterling character in the death of Rev. Lewellyn S. Rose.

Rev. Rose lacked the educational foundation that has been a stepping stone to fame for many of his profession. His sermons were not the product of research, but came directly from the heart.

His doctrines were of the same sound substantial basis of those of our forefathers, doctrines upon which this nation has been built. In this day of modernism and tendency to stray from the old-fashioned gospel, his kind are all too few.

Falling health proved an added burden. He was well aware of the seriousness of his ailment and expressed a desire to "die in the harness."

The wish of a true servant of his Maker and people was granted.

BETWEEN OCEANS

Courtney Ryley Cooper, so favorably known to magazine readers by reason of his animal stories and tales of circus life, tells about an oil-electric locomotive perfected by the Canadian National railways which has shown a speed far beyond that of any existing steam locomotive and which, on long runs, will compare very favorably to that of the planes now operated in mail and passenger service. The new locomotive, he states, will be put into service on the Canadian National lines within the next six months.

Mr. Cooper's announcement is made following a test made of the new model, No. 9000, witnessed by him, and if the engines of the new model perform as satisfactorily in actual service as in the severe tests given No. 9000, trains will cross the continent from coast to coast in sixty hours, as planned by the rail-road officials.

"Transportation men see in it the railroad's answer to the airplane," Cooper says. "If the '9000' lives up to the promises made for it the days of the steam locomotive are numbered, and out of Canada will come the means of electrifying the railroads of the world without use of a single mile of trolley wire or third rail."

The newly-created model, which generates its power by means of a Diesel engine, if it performs up to its tests, will be able to cut the present scheduled time between New York and San Francisco by from twenty-four to thirty-six hours and come within ten or twelve hours of the scheduled time now being made by the recently-inaugurated air-rail service.

With locomotives capable of making high speed on comparatively level stretches and with sufficient power to negotiate the mountain grades at good speed, the problem is not an insurmountable one by any means. The distance between New York City and San Francisco is 3,186 miles. To maintain a sixty-hour service over this distance means an average speed of fifty-three miles an hour. The new locomotive is held capable of maintaining even a higher average speed. Will the roadbeds stand it? The answer to this question may be had in the fact that over twice that speed has been attained on a number of American railroads for short distances. The Burlington has a record of a speed of 108 miles an hour; the Michigan Central, 115.90; the New York Central, 112.5; the Philadelphia & Reading, 115.20 and the Plant system, 120. The last-named speed being maintained over a run of five miles. If tracks and roadbeds will stand such speeds as these, there is no real reason why the plan of the Canadian National officials should not be realized if their new engine is all that is claimed for it.

British Flying Officer Atcherley, who will fly the Schneider cup, made such speed in a test this week that the official observers could do no more than estimate it to be between 320 and 350 miles an hour. And our memory goes back to a time when driving at a speed of ten miles an hour was considered fast. This old life of ours has been speeded up a bit with the passing years.

What Others Say

GERMANY'S TEN YEARS

Germany has just celebrated the tenth anniversary of the republic as exemplified by the proclamation of the constitution at Weimar in August, 1919. It is a striking coincidence that the commemoration occurs at a moment when German achievements in a variety of directions are challenging the world's attention to a degree unparalleled at any period during the intervening decade. The Reich enters upon its new decennial of republic existence not only as a full-fledged member of the family of nations, but one which has won its place with a rapidly and completely new almost without compare in history. Though the world was inclined at first to shudder when Field Marshal von Hindenburg assumed the presidency, fearing that it meant the restitution of the military spirit in Berlin, Germany has magnificently demonstrated the unparaphable of such anxieties. She has dedicated herself intensively to the arts of peace under the leadership of the Weimar constitution and the Hindenburg presidency. Today Germans are making themselves mighty in trade and commerce and in science and invention. The World war devastated them as a military power. Hourly proof is forthcoming that it is equally failing to annihilate their skill and strength in the fields where Mars is not supreme.

Run down merely the list of things which have riveted attention on German accomplishments in recent times. From the joins of German shipwrights springs the Bremen, queen of the seas. The German aeronautical genius, meteor earth pays unstinted tribute as the great dirigible Graf Zeppelin is resting after her globe girdling cruise.

Shackled by the Versailles treaty as to the extent to which she may reconstruct a navy, German warship builders proceed to design a cruiser—within the limits of the Reich rights—said to be the equal in fighting effectiveness of two of the finest types of cruiser now building for either the American or British navy.

Does one crave an example of Germany's "comeback in yet another domain—a domain possibly less impressive than the industrial or the scientific, yet one by one means insignificant? It can be found in the fact that a sturdy son of the Fatherland, 22-year-old Max Schmeling, is today acclaimed by no less an authority than our own Grantland Rice as the outstanding claimant to the world's heavyweight boxing championship. Before the war the idea of a German, John L. Sullivan would have made the whole cauliflower industry snort with derision. Now a Prussian lad, about to do battle in America, is held the likeliest next wearer of the crown that Dempsey lost and Tunney renounced.

Who shall venture to predict, with a ten-year post-war record of this caliber, what the Germany of 1929, or 1939, will be like? It is safe to forebode a Reich that will be marching exceedingly close to the head, if not actually at the front of the international procession. If their maiden decade of republicanism is an augury of the years to follow, the Germans' progress toward world leadership can arouse in the rest of mankind nothing but emotions of admiration. It would be well if those feelings are incited with a healthy realization that unless the rest of us are up on our toes, we may awake to find ourselves hopelessly outdistanced by the country Palmerston once called "that damned land of professors."—Washington Star.

CATARACT CURE NOW A SIMPLE OPERATION

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Of all the serious troubles that come to plague the human family, perhaps the most catastrophic one is cataract.

DR. COPELAND

Perhaps this statement will puzzle you. How can a trouble so serious as this be considered satisfactory? This is what I mean.

Hindness is a most distressing affliction. There are many causes for it. It is a question of time when enduring blindness will be the dreadful end.

But in cataract there is practically a certainty that sight can be restored. As the cause of learning that the sight will fail gradually, the feeling will be replaced speedily by the comfort of knowing that presently a painless operation will restore the vision.

There are many mistaken ideas in the popular mind about cataract. Lots of people think it a growth over the surface of the eye, a sort of skin that shuts out sight. This is not the case.

In the interior of the eyeball, back of the pupil, is a transparent structure called the "crystalline lens." In health, it has a part to play in focusing the rays of light and making the vision distinct. In cataract, this lens becomes cloudy. As the cloudiness increases, the vision becomes more and more hazy. This goes on until the cataract is "ripe." Then the whole substance of the structure has become involved and its original transparency has disappeared.

When this time arrives the eye is ready for operation. Cocaine is used to deaden the nerves. Then the delicate knife can be inserted into the capsule and other tiny instruments can be used to remove from within the eyeball the entire crystalline lens. And all this is done without pain.

The eye is bandaged, and after five or six days or a week the wound is healed. Within a couple of weeks glasses are fitted and the joyful patient finds it possible to see his friends and read the newspapers.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial purgatives or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like if they will keep their stomachs free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with three or four tablets of Bismarck Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive and handy tablet form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bismarck Magnesia tablets, which any good drug-store can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that 99 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bismarck Magnesia tablets!

Jewelry Stolen In Cleveland Robbery

Columbus, O., Aug. 30.—Police were puzzled today over the robbery of a fashionable east side home in which the robber left only one clew, blood-spattered walls and floors.

Jewelry and other articles, valued at more than $2,000, were stolen from the residence, belonging to Albert Kull.

Police expressed the opinion that the intruder may have cut his hand. Mrs. Kull was in the house at the time but she did not hear the robber, who worked swiftly and who was apparently acquainted with the home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Herbert and sons, Ohio ave., left Friday on a motor trip to Waterloo, Ia., where they will visit relatives.

FORMER SALEM MAYOR LAUDS OWA-TON-NA

"That Indian Remedy Gives You a Great Appetite And When You Eat, Food Doesn't Distress"

Everyone in Salem knows Mr. John Post, former mayor and widely known auctioneer. Most everyone knows that recently he has not been as fit as he had been. He says: "Ever since I had that nervous breakdown, I haven't been able to get back my old pep. My health just seems to be generally run down."

"Many of the things that I like to eat I have had to give up because they caused me so much trouble. I haven't been sleeping the way I should and many a night when I go to bed I would roll and toss for quite a while before I would be able to go to sleep. When I would fall asleep, it didn't seem to be long because my nerves were in such bad shape. I was tired and felt grouchy and irritable most of the time."

"When Owa-Ton-Na was recommended to me, I did not know whether to take it or not. I have heard a great deal about Indian medicines and the good results people who use them have had, so I thought I would give it a trial and I wasn't disappointed. My appetite has improved wonderfully and I can now eat anything I want to and it doesn't seem to bother me. I can go to bed and sleep fine and I am getting back my old time pep and strength. I certainly consider this old Indian Remedy a good pure building tonic and I am justified in recommending Owa-Ton-Na to any one who is in a nervous run-down condition."

Owa-Ton-Na is a non-alcoholic herbal preparation for kidney, liver, stomach and intestinal disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general run-down condition of health. Sold in Salem at Fiedler's, Boiger & French and J. H. Lease drug stores.—Adv.

RED SUCKLING PIGS

LIBERALLY IN CREEP

Feeding of suckling pigs is a job before it is necessary to put them in their winter quarters. It is essential to the successful production of fall pigs according to W. L. Robinson, assistant in animal husbandry at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

The pigs are ten days to two weeks old. It is advisable to feed a ration a day as much of a ration as they will eat. It is also important to begin feeding the pigs as soon as possible. This can be done by keeping feed in a trough in which the pigs have access to it.

A more severe type of confinement is now being tested. The floors of brooder houses, laying houses and sun parlors are of wire screen so the birds never touch floor nor soil. One group of chickens managed this way in brooder house escaped a serious outbreak of coccidiosis while the adjoining groups of chickens of same age, and on same feed confined indoors on the straw covered floor in a new brooder were attacked.

Other tests in progress at the station prove that chickens of all ages can be confined successfully, provided proper feeding and management is practiced. Screening the floors of brooder and laying houses offers promising possibilities for securing better sanitation, and the solution of the litter problem.

CHICKS THRIVE ON WIRE SCREEN FLOOR

It was incredible that chickens of all ages can be kept in close confinement, or "barnyarded," and yet grow and produce as well as when they are given a good free range, which affords them luscious green feed and direct sunlight. Yet, actual tests at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station prove that outdoor range is not essential, but does prove a hazard. In the station tests, chickens were confined indoors on wire screen floors and did not permit the birds to come in contact with the soil.

According to a recent bulletin the station has been pioneering in tests with the keeping of chickens in confinement. In one test with two groups of 100 chicks each, one group was confined in a 10x12 foot brooder house covered with a wire screen sun parlor; the other group had the same ration and management, except that the chicks had a good free range. Straw litter was used in both brooder houses. Both groups yielded first class pullets, with a low rate of mortality. The mortality of the confined pullets was a little less and they weighed a little more when 12 weeks of age and were the first to lay.

Practically the same results were secured in a similar test, with 400 chicks to each group. The point is this, as stated by D. C. Kennard, a good range may be all right, but a poor contaminated range may lead to disaster.

CUTTING SOYBEANS FOR SILAGE OR HAY

Soybeans make good silage if they are not too full of soy when cut into the silo. They make good hay if cut a little earlier, when full of pods with the seeds just beginning to form, according to L. E. Thatcher, Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, associate agronomist at the station.

If soybeans alone are put into the silo, they should be allowed to get as ripe as possible without appreciable loss of leaves. At this stage some of the lower leaves will be turning yellow and the pods will be filled with immature seeds. It is necessary to harvest before this stage, Thatcher says the plants should be allowed to be in the field a day or two until thoroughly wilted so as to reduce the percentage of moisture. Too much moisture in the plants produces a strong, ill-smelling silage.

Sometimes it is a question with the farmer whether to put the soybeans into the silo or make them into hay. A test with dairy cows conducted by Hayden and Perkins at the Ohio station showed equally good results from feeding corn soybean hay. The corn-soybean silage mixture was made in the ratio of 1 part soybeans to 2.1 parts corn. An equal amount of soybeans in this form of hay was fed with corn silage in the test.

In filling the silo it is best to feed the corn and soybeans into the cutter so as to obtain a good mixture. The ratio of 1 part soybeans to 2 parts of corn by weight is satisfactory. Soybeans make good hay when the seeds are just beginning to form.

Earlier cutting will give a hay some what higher in feeding value, but much less tonnage per acre. If cut later than this the yield is increased but the feeding value is less. The palatability of soybean hay decreases as the plants approach maturity.

Late cut soybeans are also more difficult to cure, as the green beans are very slow to dry. They need to be cured thoroughly in the swath or windrow before going into the silo.

PRODUCE SUPER CORN FROM INBRED STRAINS

By inbreeding and selecting corn for several generations and then crossing the resulting pure inbred strains, super corn has been produced. "Although inbreeding is usually thought of as a practice to be avoided, yet through this very process," says G. H. Stringfield, assistant in the department of agronomy at the Ohio experiment station, "a method has been discovered of producing unusually healthy, vigorous, productive corn plants."

The corn is closely inbred by dusting the silks with pollen from the same plant and excluding pollen from other plants. During the several generations of this treatment, many defectives appear and are eliminated. "The strains that do survive this purifying process are much reduced in vigor. But vigor and attendant productivity may be regained immediately by crossing two of these strains that are unrelated. In fact, many such crosses have been producing yields much greater than can be obtained from the best commercial varieties."

It has been demonstrated that higher yields can be obtained by this process than by any other known method of corn breeding.

Mr. Stringfield's corn breeding work will be one of the interesting features of Corn and Soybean day at the experiment station, Sept. 11. The work includes 233 inbred strains of corn growing side by side. Some of these strains are less than three feet high. In contrast to these are more than a hundred uniform, vigorous, productive hybrids from these inbred strains, as well as the best commercial varieties.

Skeleton of Freak Animal In Museum

Boston, Aug. 30—Harvard University was expected to be the recipient of a large skeleton of some deep sea mammal which was hauled in by fishermen aboard the schooner Cornishman, 739 miles southeast from Highland Light, Cape Cod. The skeleton, about seven feet in width and ten feet long, was said by some to be that of a whale while others along the waterfront contended that it was some prehistoric monster that had rested on the ocean floor for years.

Abandonment Of County High School Competitions Loom Near

New Games Scheduled Between Schools In Circuit This Season

For several seasons has appeared inevitable in Columbiana county schools athletic competition appears about to reach its abandonment point this year. Where formerly each school in the circuit played the other in contending for championship honors, few games are scheduled during the coming school term; county games which for more than a decade have attracted widespread interest in the district, are doomed.

The situation apparently reaches its climax this season, through the failure of Salem High and Liverpool teams to clash on either the basketball or football court. For years these struggles have been the main event in the sport schedules of both schools, and now, with their mutual abandonment, interest in inter-county athletic races is at its lowest ebb.

The fall season Salem plays but four county teams; East Liverpool, one, while in all probability the smaller schools, Lisbon, East Palestine, Wellsville and Leetonia, will meet each other in basketball and football. No county race can be decided without a clash between Salem and Liverpool, and for that reason, unless changes are made in the schedules of both teams this year, the circuit will practically be abandoned.

There is a feeling of animosity between Red and Black and the county center school, despite its differences in past seasons, has caused the breaking off of the circuit. It was understood, at the time of last basketball season, that a change was effected in Liverpool coaching staff, that at a basketball game would be arranged, but none has as yet been scheduled. Salem has completed its schedule for the season, and now the two teams conflict. The gridiron is hardly probable, but it is highly possible that two games will be played in the fall season.

County Meet Doomed
A far as track is concerned, there is a strong feeling throughout the county that the county meet should be abandoned unless a new scoring system is adopted. Coach Ward, of Wellsville, attempted to introduce a runner-player plan last year, predicting the abolishment of the meet unless smaller schools could obtain an equal chance with Salem and Wellsville, but it was abandoned, and no other plan has been brought up. Salem's entry in the meet for four years ago, and Liverpool's failure to appear, seemed to be the final step down the ladder of oblivion for the event. Out of 22 games so far on its schedule, the Red and Black have won only three county teams in four games. Wellsville is to be defeated twice and Lisbon and East Palestine each once, while Liverpool seemed to have scheduled no games against the other county teams. The exception of Leetonia, which has no basketball team, will meet each other on the court. In these situations arising, it is evident that some steps must be taken to save the county meet, to prevent interest in county competition from falling down may be caused by Salem's monopoly on the circuit doesn't continue for several years ago Liverpool, under the Don DeBolt and others, seemed to run away with the basketball title, but the games continued, and Salem's victories should not be so great. Perhaps one of the smaller schools will topple the Red and Black on the gridiron this year, and then the situation will be more balanced than ever, unless a victory is Wellsville, who plays Liverpool.

Salem and Liverpool, being larger, have an advantage over smaller schools, and even their elimination from the county league would not necessarily mean that the others could abandon their battles with each other. The formation of a five-

New Code Simplifies Criminal Procedure

As the result of the new criminal code adopted by the last session of the legislature, simplified indictment forms have been received by Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht. These new forms, covering many kinds of cases have been stripped of technical verbiage and merely state that a certain character of crime was committed on a certain date.

Old indictment forms were double sheets while the new forms are only one sheet. None of the details of a crime are related in the new form and only the character of the offense is set up. The new forms, it is also said, reduce the possibility of motions and demurrers before the cases go to the court.

Bottle Exchange Sorts Out Homeless Milk Containers

Chicago, Aug. 30.—"Oh, just put it out on the back porch and the milkman will take it away."

What becomes of that milk bottle you purchased at the delicatessen? It goes to the Milk Dealers' Bottle Exchange.

More than 60,000,000 milk bottles a year find their way into the exchange, which is owned and operated by all large milk companies in Chicago. There are similar exchanges in other large cities.

If Mrs. Housewife has a regular account daily with the Smith Dairy company, but runs short and buys a bottle of the Brown company's milk from a grocery, she places the Brown company's bottle on her doorstep. The Smith company driver picks it up with his own "empties" and after his day's work is concluded, drops all the "stray" bottles into a vast bin.

Every evening exchange trucks pick up these stray bottles and bring them in. At the exchange they are sorted out by companies and the following day are delivered back to their original centers. The driver then picks up a new batch of stray bottles and the process goes on endlessly every day of the year.

The bottles are then washed thoroughly by the companies, dried and are refilled and capped. The next day they start out on their journey but always find their way back again.

Why the exchange company? The milk bottles cost five cents each, according to E. Reuter, manager of the exchange.

"THE THUNDERBOLT"
Front pages of the daily newspapers provide endless stories for motion pictures according to Charles F. Hartmann, Hollywood author and adaptor of many screen plays. His latest story, "The Thunderbolt," starring George Bancroft, which is at the State, works a series of these front page events into a dramatic story of the underworld of New York's Harlem.

The stronger drama has ever been observed, no greater emotional climax ever screened than Von Sternberg and Bancroft have brought forth in "Thunderbolt." Opening in the intriguing atmosphere of Harlem, the lives and destinies of hundreds of human beings, it swings to the awe-inspiring setting of Sing Sing's Death Row, where the final scenes are enacted.

The story captures and vivifies the dramatic incidents that cross the news horizon in the newspapers every day. It goes behind these flitting episodes and brings the whole tale forward. Superbly acted by a splendid cast, headed by Bancroft, Richard Arlen and Fay Wray, it is a slice of contemporary life made to live.

"IT CAN BE DONE"
"It Can Be Done," the latest Universal comedy starring Glenn Tryon, opens at the Royal Theatre tonight. Glenn Tryon, that popular young comedian who has achieved such phenomenal success in the last two years, portrays the part of a young man who is possessed of a devastating inferiority complex, and consequently undergoes the trials and tribulations that are the lot of all persons afflicted with an excess of timidity.

Tryon takes the part of a young clerk in a publishing firm. He has just been discharged and is leaving the office when he meets the girl of his heart, who thinks that he is the boss of the company and forces her manuscript upon him. He reads her story and decides to put into active use some of the theories that it contains.

WHO'S WHO IN SALEM

Miss Hattie Roessler and Miss Addie Bousall, two outstanding Salem business ladies. Miss Roessler manages and owns The Salem Builders Supply Co. Many people, no doubt, think that the building supply business is a strange business for a lady to manage. Miss Roessler has had many years experience in this line, and with the capable assistance of Miss Addie Bousall, her assistant, she has been very successful. When there is a question about any kind of building material, an honest and conscientious decision can be obtained from either of these well-informed ladies.

Both Miss Roessler and Miss Bousall are great Salem boosters. They believe in patronizing home industry and merchants whenever possible. This belief in itself makes valuable citizens. Salem can well be proud of these two business ladies. We also can be proud of the distinction of having a business of this kind owned and operated by ladies.
